Tune me in the wild side of life,
I'm an innocent young child sharp as a knife,
Take me to the garrets where the artists have died,
Show me the court room where the judges have lied.

And each day I learn just a little bit more,
I don't know why but I do know what for,
If we 're all going somewhere let's get there soon,
This song's got no title just words and a tune.

If I was an artist who paints with his eyes,
I'd study my subject and silently cry,
Cry for the darkness to come down on me,
For confusion to carry on turning time away.

The Road Not Taken

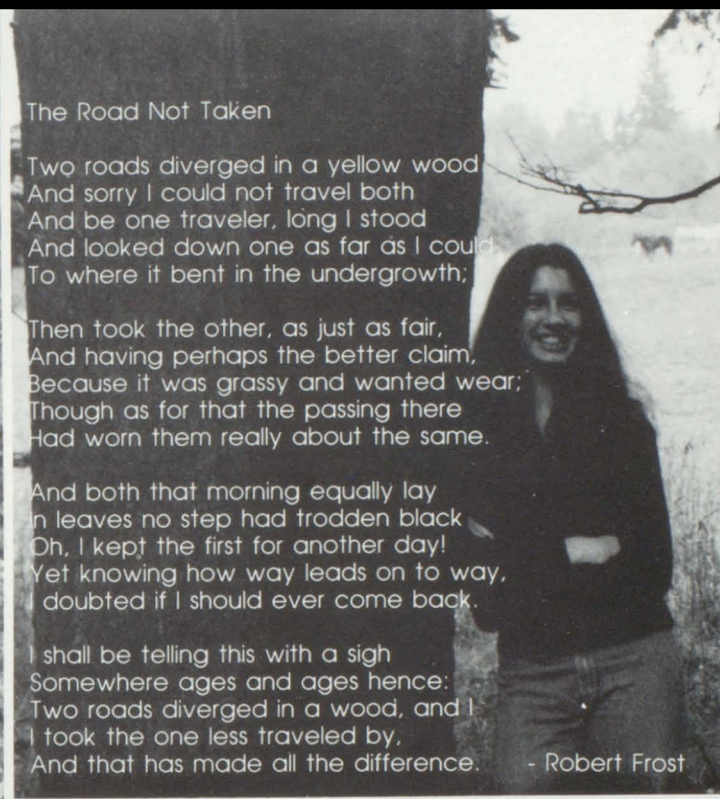

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same.

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I
Took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

Freebird

If I leave here tomorrow
Would you still remember me?
For I must be traveling on, now,
'Cause there's too many places I've got to see.
But if I stayed here with you,
things just couldn't be the same.
'Cause I'm as free as a bird now,
And this bird you cannot change.
Lord knows, I can't change.

Bye, bye, its been a sweet love,
Though this feeling I can't change,
But please don't take it so badly.
'Cause the Lord knows I'm to blame.
But if I stayed here with you,
Things just wouldn't be the same,
'Cause I'm as free as a bird, now,
and this bird you cannot change,
and this bird you cannot change.
Lord knows, I can't change.
Lord knows, I can't change.

Won't you fly high, freebird,

This is the beginning of a new day.
I have been given this day to do with as I will.
I can waste it or use it for good.
What I do today is important, because I'm exchanging
a day of my life for it.
When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever,
leaving in its place whatever I have traded for it.
I pledge to myself that it shall be gain, not loss; good,
not evil; success, not failure; in order that I shall not regret the price I paid for this day.

Life's a pretty precious and wonderful thing. You can't sit down and let it lap around you. . . You have to plunge into it; you have to dive through it! And you can't save it, you can't store it up; you can't horde it in a vault. You've got to taste it; you've got to use it. The more you use, the more you have. . . that's the miracle of it!

An Education?

"What do you want to be when you grow up?" the teacher asked her pupils.

"A fireman," Nelson answered.

"A policeman," yelled Robert.

"A nurse," said Myra.

"A baseball player," Shouted Michael.

"An airplane pilot," whispered Baby girl.

Everyone in the class laughed at Baby girl.

"Did you ever see a girl pilot?" yelled Bob "Well it is possible. All I have to do is learn to fly real well," defended Baby girl. "Girls aren't Supposed to fly airplanes. Only boys are pilots; right, teacher?" asked Mike. "Well boys and girls, I must admit that I have never seen a woman airplane pilot. Didn't you once say that you wanted to be a teacher, Baby girl?" asked the teacher.

"No, I always wanted to be a pilot," claimed Baby girl. "See Baby girl," the teacher sermonized, "most girls work only a few years after they are done with school. Then they get married and spend all their time raising a family." "Yeah, girls are too stupid to be airplane pilots," shouted Nelson. "Well how come I get all A's, and you get all C's?" asked Baby girl proudly...

I am fascinated by the prospect that one breath's existence may in part be preserved for the duration of many breaths within the cradle of a frame there to be coddled, cooed, held close to the heartbeat of the mind. Admittedly it is sad, even sinful, for a person to plunge vast thought chunks into yesterday's illusory context; but I wonder over loss of favor in God's eye for one's torrid resurrection of a smile. -Bob

Just when you think
you've got me pegged,
I change.

The four years since I first came to Annie Wright School have passed so quickly. I couldn't imagine myself speaking English. I never thought I would understand my classes. I never thought I'd make friends. I never thought about graduation. Well, but all these things happened. I had a lot of hard times and also good times. And I won't forget these times.

If you can imagine it, you can achieve it.
If you can dream it, you can become it.

Surely you're not saying we have the resources To save the poor from their lot? There will be poor always pathetically struggling-Look at the good things you've got!
Think! while you still have me
Move! while you still see me
You'll be lost and you'll be so sorry when I'm gone!
